

Timeline

Below is a timeline of events regarding the Syracuse University case:

2001

- Violations begin.

2007

- March: Local YMCA notified school that athletes and coaches received payments from YMCA employees. Former chancellor engages counsel to investigate further.

2010

- October: Syracuse submitted self-report of violations to the NCAA.

2011

- September: NCAA enforcement staff issued notice of allegations to school and part-time football tutor, containing 11 allegations.
- December: Enforcement staff obtains new information relating to the school.

2012

- January: NCAA enforcement staff notified Committee on Infractions of need for further investigation.
- March: Enforcement staff notified school it would investigate academic-related issues.

2013

- Investigation continues.
- December: Syracuse submitted second self-report of potential violations to the NCAA.

2014

- January: Syracuse submitted third self-report to the NCAA, withdrawing previously self-reported information.
- May 6: NCAA enforcement staff issued amended notice of allegations based on the revised self-report to Syracuse and involved individuals.
- July: Director of basketball operations and student-athlete support services mentor notified the Committee on Infractions that they will not participate in hearing or submit responses to notice of allegations.
- August: Syracuse head basketball coach and part-time football tutor submitted responses to the amended notice of allegations.
- Sept. 25 and Oct. 7: Academic coordinator, who had previously declined to participate in the investigation earlier, requested to participate in the hearing and agreed to be interviewed.
- Oct. 14: Enforcement staff interviewed academic coordinator.
- Oct. 30-31: Committee on Infractions panel conducted hearing with Syracuse, involved individuals and the enforcement staff.
- Nov. 6: Committee on Infractions panel submitted interpretive request to NCAA academic and membership affairs staff about extra benefits.

- Nov. 12: Syracuse appealed response to interpretive request regarding the use of extra benefits rules to academics from NCAA Academic and Membership Affairs staff to Legislative Review and Interpretations Committee.
- Dec. 4: Legislative Review and Interpretations Committee affirmed NCAA staff determination. Syracuse appealed the decision to the Division I Legislative Council.

2015

- Jan. 8: Division I Legislative Council supported Legislative Review and Interpretations Committee decision.
- Jan. 23: Panel asked the school for information that was requested in the notice of allegations but not previously provided in the school's response.
- Jan. 30: Syracuse submitted the requested information and included a self-imposed penalty not previously identified.
- March 6: COI panel issued decision.